++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry but rather cloudy. Becoming warmer.

Today:
A rather cloudy day, with little in the way of sunshine until the cloud starts to break up towards the evening. Dry for most, though patchy drizzle may affect southern areas during the afternoon. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry overnight for most, with clear spells. Low cloud is likely to linger in the east however, causing hill fog and drizzle over the Pennines. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Sunday:
Starting off bright and dry on Sunday, with sunny spells for many. Turning cloudier through the afternoon before rain arrives in the evening, mostly affecting the north. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy throughout Monday, with patchy rain, at times heavy in the north. Fog patches possible early on Tuesday, then brightening through the day. Dry and sunny on Wednesday. Becoming warmer.
